Dear all,

Tomorrow is our final orientation day for next year's kindergarten students. Please ensure all necessary documentation is brought to the school so we can process enrolments. We look forward to seeing our new recruits joining us full time next year.

Next Thursday 29th November will be our final day of scripture for the year and we will be treated to a small scripture performance, commencing at 9:30am. This will be followed by a morning tea to say thanks to the many amazing volunteers who dedicate their time to better our school. Please accept this open invitation to attend the morning tea which will commence at approximately 10:30am. There are so many people who have helped in so many ways this year through tuck-shop, uniforms, assisting with reading, supporting the P&C, scripture, the Country Fair, and keeping our school looking beautiful. We would love to see lots of faces at our morning tea so come along!

Our Year 5 students had a fantastic time at last week's small schools leadership day. They are to be commended on their extemporaneous behaviour and the way in which they interacted with their peers from other schools. The small school leadership day is set to become an annual event.

Have a great week,

Rod White
